How to Support Migrant Initiatives in Your Community

Utilize Your Resources

Convert Resources into Action

Consider your position in your community. What can you contribute to undocumented community members or migrant organizations?

- Legal professionals – even if not immigration lawyers, can help with PoA and also with developing “who to call if...” lists
- School employees – knowledge of “know your rights” and student/family situations across the broader community, how the church may support a nearby school
- Local law enforcement – knowledge of current ICE requests for support or other community concerns
- Notary – help complete Powers of Attorney
- Mental health professionals – help prepare more people to serve Mental Health First Aid and think about trauma-informed communal practices
- Non-profit or community workers involved in immigrant communities – can help gather a call list for different resources people and families might need
- Everyone:
  - Is there someone you could serve as a first-call, point person for? Reach out to them to initiate a supportive conversation
  - Are you positioned to do child-pickup and safeguarding? Well-connected with community orgs or professionally situated to help with legal, medical or other needs?
