

COLOMBIA

Protective measures for journalist

RRN sent letters to Colombian officials in 2007 and 2009 for the safety of Hollman Morris, a well-known director and presenter of the investigative television program CONTRAVIA. His investigations have uncovered mass graves from paramilitary murders and disappearances carried out by the paramilitaries. One threat signed by the paramilitary group the National Patriotic Front stated that he had won a raffle for a coffin for being a guerrilla member, anti-patriotic and an informer.

Good news: April 2009

The Ministry of the Interior and Justice informed RRN that they had adopted protective measures for Hollman Morris. RRN has not received any word of further threats to Morris since then.